Communication submitted by Penelope Culbreth-Graft titled Draft Reconnaissance Study for Edinger Avenue Parkway Improvements Between Saybrook Lane and Countess Drive CC 1275.

The Following Additional Late Communication Was Submitted During the Meeting:

Communication submitted by Michael Freeman, Freedman, Tung & Bottomley, undated, titled The City of Huntington Beach, Corridor Revitalization: Land Use, Development, and Design Considerations.

Public Comments

Chuck Scheid voiced his concerns regarding the reconsideration of the budget, stating his disappointment in the Councilmembers who previously stated their intention to not change their votes. He stated his opposition to the Edinger beautification project funding, citing similar projects in the City that he said will require citizens to pay 100% of the improvement. Mr. Scheid suggested removing the funding on the project from the budget.

Norm “Firecracker” Westwell, affiliated with the Libertarian Party, thanked Council for reconsidering the budget in the name of citizen involvement. He listed areas of the City that do not have curbs and gutters including Warner and Los Patos. Mr. Westwell thanked Councilmember Bohr for bringing the item forward and Councilmember Cook for stating her opinion that a policy for Council to follow is necessary.

Mitsuru Yamada voiced his concerns relative to the Beach Boulevard strategy workshop and changing zoning from commercial to residential. He recommended a Beach Boulevard impact study and a trip generation study, with Caltrans involved. Mr. Yamada also asked for a monetary impact study report as it relates to the Beach Boulevard property owners, and for a delay on zoning the area residential.

Steve Stafford thanked Councilmember Cook for the study session on Beach Boulevard, stating his opinion that Beach Boulevard should be zoned commercial. Mr. Stafford also spoke regarding a lawsuit filed relative to an injury on a wall/fence and concerns with the footing of the wall, stating safety concerns.

Mike Adams, consultant for property owners on Beach Boulevard, asked Councilmembers to take a look at earlier studies done and encouraged them to look at mixed-use complexes. Mr. Adams stated his opinion that intensifying densities and affordable housing would work in this area, and would encourage the use of public transportation.

Tim Geddes spoke regarding previous budget meetings and the amendment made by Council vote to approve the Edinger beautification project. Mr. Geddes asked Council to look to the Finance Board for input on the process for project approval.

(City Council) Beach Boulevard Strategy Workshop Study Session Held – A Presentation was made by an Urban Design and Land Use Consultant on Commercial Corridor Planning and Revitalization Strategies. (120.30)

Planning Director Howard Zelefsky introduced the topic by describing the history of Beach Boulevard studies. He introduced Ellen Greenberg and Michael Freedman, consultants hired by the City.

Ms. Greenberg gave a PowerPoint report titled The City of Huntington Beach, Corridor Revitalization: Land Use, Development and Design Considerations, reviewing the reason for the study and the existing conditions. Mr. Freedman resumed the presentation, stating that the trend is for retail to concentrate at major intersections and freeway off-ramps. He suggested concentration of businesses at Town and Neighborhood Centers rather than on a strip corridor, stating that development policies should distinguish between Town Centers, Regional Centers and Neighborhood Centers. He suggested consideration be given to reducing the amount of land intended for commercial development along the corridor.

Mr. Freeman also spoke regarding the maintenance of specialty segments such as auto sales centers, taking advantage of the strong housing market to promote the transformation of the long segments to residential, workplace and lodging, and fostering the emergence of grand boulevards – stressing the importance of design standards and matching the buildings to the roads. Other comments included focusing street improvement resources to match streetscape to street segment uses.

Ms. Greenberg then spoke about corridor mobility in terms of pedestrian and driver access to the different segments, and planning strategies including key participants throughout the process.

Councilmember Cook and Mayor Hardy thanked the consultants for their study.

City Administrator Penny Culbreth-Graft commented on the process, and the connection to the budgeted funds, clarifying that no action is needed on this item tonight unless Council wishes to change the budget.

Councilmember Hansen inquired about sufficiency of the funds budgeted. Director Zelefsky suggested he would return to Council with a memorandum detailing costs associated after speaking with the consultant.

Councilmember Green requested a synopsis of the vision, and at what level Council would participate, also inquiring about the Edinger Corridor. Administrator Culbreth-Graft responded that staff would most likely return with a workshop to explain the design. Director Zelefsky commented on the Edinger Corridor.

Councilmember Cook stated her opinion that a larger area should be considered, with input from the experts. Councilmember Hansen concurred, stating his opinion that the retail scope of the entire City should be analyzed at the same time.
