

"The Sister City Program is an important resource to the negotiations of governments in letting the people themselves give expression to their common desire for friendship, good will, and cooperation for a better world for all."

"No impersonal representation of a culture can fully communicate its reality to others who have never known its living substance. Through personal relations our curiosity can be fulfilled by a sense of knowledge, cynicism can give way to trust, and the warmth of human friendship be kindled."

THE SISTER CITY IDEA

In 1977, Huntington Beach, California, and Waitemata, New Zealand, joined together as sister cities. Thus, they became part of the people-to-people program started in 1956 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Within this program, cities and their citizens exchange things, ideas and people in a wide variety of cultural, youth, educational, municipal, professional, and technical projects. The Sister City Program gives focus to community interests, as evidenced by the citizens and their institutions, toward building a better climate for world understanding.

Huntington Beach is one of over 600 cities in the United States that have adopted "sisters" around the world. We are proud to report that the Sister City Idea is working in Huntington Beach.
