“MADE IN HUNTINGTON BEACH” Returns to HBTv-3

After a 12 year hiatus, a once popular Huntington Beach television show is making a comeback this August. “Made in Huntington Beach” or “Made in HB” will make its debut this August on our local government access channel HBTv-3. The television and internet program will showcase and tell stories of Huntington Beach businesses from the often overlooked light industrial companies and their products, to candles, to underwater submarines.

“Made in Huntington Beach” was originally created in 1993, and ran for about 10 years on HBTv-3. It was produced through the City of Huntington Beach’s Economic Development Department. The program was well viewed, but stopped production when funding for HBTv 3, the City’s local TV channel, shut down in July 2003.

Now produced by the City’s Office of Business Development, the program will highlight a new crop of companies with an occasional throwback, when the program revisits those manufacturers of the past, and are still going strong.

Hosted by Matt Liffreing, “Made in HB” reunites Matt with cameraman Greg Furlong, an award-winning PBS videographer/editor in his own right. The first episode will feature popular mobile photo lens systems maker, Olloclip, and Back to the Future carmaker, DeLorean.

If you know a company in Huntington Beach with cool productions that are “Made,” assembled or headquartered in Huntington Beach please call the Office of Business Development’s Deputy Director Kellee Fritzal at 714.536.1519 or email at kfritzal@surfcity-hb.org.

“Minor” Water Leaks Result in Trillion Gallon Waste

Minor water leaks account for more than one trillion gallons of water wasted each year in U.S. homes. Huntington Beach residents are reminded that fixing leaks from household plumbing fixtures and irrigation systems has environmental and economic benefits. In most cases, fixture replacement parts can be installed by do-it-yourselfers and pay for themselves in a short amount of time. Here are a few water-saving tips:

- Reduce faucet leaks by checking faucet washers and gaskets for wear and, if necessary, replace the faucet.
- Leaky toilets are most often the result of a worn toilet flapper. Replacing the rubber flapper is a quick fix that could save a home up to 200 gallons of water per day. If your toilet is an older model, consider replacing it with a new, efficient low-flow model. Rebates available at www.ocwatersmart.com
- For a leaky garden hose, replace the nylon or rubber hose washer and ensure a tight connection to the spigot using pipe tape and a wrench. Landscape irrigation systems should be checked for leaks to ensure they are not damaged.

Read to the Rhythm with the Surf City Strummers

Not everyone is able to take a Hawaiian vacation during the summer, but they can experience a little "Aloha" at the Huntington Beach Public Library. On Saturday, July 18, the library will host Island Bazaar's "Surf City Strummers." They will perform ukulele standards and share information on what makes the 'uke' such a fun instrument. Attendees will also discover library materials on how to become a ukulele master. The performance will begin at 2 p.m. at the Central Library in the Talbert Room. It is free for all to attend.

The Surf City Strummers are led by Shirley Orlando, owner of Island Bazaar in Huntington Beach. Orlando has been in the ukulele business for 45 years and provides services such as lessons, ukulele groups, and has even organized Ukes for Troops, a campaign that sent 1,500 ukuleles to military troops overseas.

This event is part of HBPL's Read to the Rhythm summer reading program. Just like the summer reading program, the concert is open to all, ages 0 through 100 (and up!).

City Manager's Report for July 14, 2015

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Shark “Bump” Prompts Precautionary Closure of Ocean Waters in HB

On Friday, July 10, Huntington Beach Marine Safety Division closed the water from Beach Boulevard to the Pier until Saturday, July 11, at 8 a.m. due to a shark incident. The State also closed the waters at Huntington State Beach. The beach remained open for traditional summer activities.

A local surfer was “bumped” by what appeared to be a five to eight-foot great white shark, approximately 30 yards off the coast, and had a visible sighting of the shark as it swam away. The individual was interviewed by Marine Safety staff and the source has been confirmed as credible. The “bump” met the criteria for aggressive shark behavior and Fire Department protocols call for a precautionary closure of the water for one mile in both directions.

Metallic Balloon Safety

Metallic balloons are a cheerful addition to any celebration, but unfortunately they can lead to dangerous situations if not properly secured. When metallic balloons are not tied to a weight or released outdoors, they can lead to outages, injuries, and property damage.

When balloons lead to downed or dangling power lines — even if they appear not to be live — people should not touch or approach them and call 911 immediately.

For the full report, please visit:

<http://newsroom.edison.com/stories/as-dangers-soar-safe-celebrations-urged-for-dads-grads-and-newlyweds>

Tree Fire

On July 4, at approximately 9 p.m., the Fire Department responded to Ash Lane for a reported tree fire threatening an apartment building. Access was extremely difficult due to the location of the building relative to the street, so the initial attack lines were taken over a block wall from an adjacent complex into the involved yard.

The first and second floor apartments, surrounding vegetation, the attic, and the roof were checked to confirm the fire had not extended into those areas. The involved tree was overgrown onto the apartment balcony and roof and would have spread to the building. The fire was likely caused by aerial fireworks. No injuries were reported.
