All-Inclusive Beach Playground The Story

The idea of a beach playground has been a vision in the making for several years. The concept was initiated by the Community Services Commission in 2005. In 2006, the City Council approved the Commission's recommendation for a beach playground and its location.

The concept of creating an All-Inclusive Playground in HB was brought to the City by the Algario family. As parents of children with special needs, the Algario's advocated for a playground designed to accommodate children of all abilities.

In 2008, the Commission approved blending these two ideas together and modifying the design of the beach playground to be all inclusive.

However, funding for the project remained a challenge. Although the City had some funds, and private donations of $40,500, there was a shortfall to complete the project. The Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Huntington Beach generously stepped forward with the remaining funds donating $50,000 and $25,000 respectively.

Thanks to the support of many, the City's first All-Inclusive Beach Playground has become a reality.
