Case Number: 19-014562

Details:

On 10/20/19 at about 12:17 pm, officers from the Huntington Beach Police Department responded to the area of Magnolia and Warner for a report of a male lying on the ground bleeding. Upon arrival, they discovered the male had suffered a single gunshot wound to the head. The victim was taken to a local hospital for his injuries.

Detectives immediately began investigating the shooting and determined the victim and suspect knew each other. On 10/21/19, detectives arrested Dennis Dang, 29, from Westminster for attempted murder. Earlier today, they arrested a second suspect, Casey Ngo, 31, from Midway City. Ngo was also booked for attempted murder.

The name of the victim is not being released at this time, and there is no update on his condition, which was last listed as critical. Based on their preliminary investigation, detectives believe there is no longer a threat to the public and this was an isolated incident. Because this is an on-going and active investigation, no further details will be released at this time.
